

THE CENTRAL RECORD

LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY, JULY 17, 1902.

NUMBER 16

Items of Local Interest.

The Richmond Elks Fair is drawing crowds this week.

Will Preach Sunday.

Rev. Allen R. Moore was too ill to preach last Sunday, but will fill his pulpit in Lancaster as usual next Sunday morning and evening, and at Hubbsburg Sunday afternoon. He is at Dripping Springs this week, and tells us is improving rapidly.

The Table Turned.

Cynthia Democrat:—A company at Lancaster has been organized to bore for water. This, we suppose, is a negative proposition. So many companies have bored for oil and got water that it is a bright scheme to bore for water in the expectation of getting oil.

Dr. Pettiford Gone.

Dr. C. A. Pettiford, the colored physician, who has been located at this place for the last two years has located at Harrodsburg. Dr. Pettiford stood high with the profession and the people here, and his own people will miss him in the community.

Pension Examiner.

Dr. Wm. Burnett has been appointed a member of the board of Pension Examiners at this place to succeed Dr. Wesley, who resigned. The board now consists of Drs. Evans, Amon and Burnett. It meets the first and third Wednesday in each month at Dr. Burnett's office over H. T. Logan's store.

Temperance Speaking.

Rev. L. Robinson will speak on temperance at Gums Chapel tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock, at Scotts Fork Saturday July 19, at 3 p.m., Paint Lick school house Monday, 21st, at 3 p.m., and Gums Chapel Thursday, 24th, at 2 p.m. Rev. Ellison of color, will also speak at Gums Chapel Friday, 18th, at 3 p.m. Everybody invited.

An Apology.

We desire to apologize to our readers for the small amount of reading matter in this issue of THE RECORD. Our office is piled up with job work, and as is usually the case, everybody wants his work at once. The Crab Orchard fair people sent in an order Monday for fifteen thousand admission tickets, which, of course must be ready for the big exhibition next week. These must be printed, perforated and strung tied in each one. In addition to this we must have the badges for groom, owner, exhibitor, privilege men, etc., delivered. Will they be ready? Well you can bet your sweet life they will, and the other pile of work completed, too. Be a little lenient with us, dear reader, and all shortcoming will be made up for.

"Dog-Gone" Good Work.

Policeman Siler has killed thirty-nine dogs since the Mayor's proclamation some two weeks since. He carries a shot gun and can be heard bombarding all through the night.

They Are O. K.

The excursion to Cincinnati Sunday was well patronized, not only from here, but all along the line. One would be surprised to see how well these excursions are conducted; there is absolutely no drunkenness or rowdiness, which is usually associated with the excursion, and you can take a lady on one of these trains with as much comfort as on any train during the week, and feel perfectly sure that she will witness nothing but the best of order.

Fairs.

Richmond opens the season with a big Elk fair and Carnival, beginning Monday 14th: Crab Orchard, Hustonville, Danville and other adjoining towns will give fairs, and of course Lancaster will help to swell the crowd at every one of them. Let's all pull together for better railroad facilities and waterworks, and then we can have a fair of our own and not only save all the money that is spent at other fairs but gather in some of our neighbors' coin at their own game.

Mules.

Will Burton is scouring the mountain counties for mules, and within the next month his large barn on Water street will contain at least 100 mules, being fed and put in condition for the Southern market. Until Mr. Burton embarked in this business foreign buyers came here, probably once or twice a year, bought and drove from the county every mule and horse available. Mr. Burton not only affords a market for the home product, but goes out and brings them in from other points. Such industries should be encouraged.

Mr. Harden a Candidate.

The many friends of Hon. Robert Harden, of Danville, have been insisting for some time that he become a candidate for the democratic nomination for judge in this district, and last week he signified his intention to enter the race. Mr. Harden needs no introduction to the people of Garrard, as he is almost as well-known here as in his native county. He has practiced in the local courts for many years, and has some clients here who have employed him in all their business during that time. He is a man well fitted for the position, being a thoroughly lawyer, well educated and of exceedingly fine intellect. He has many relatives, both by blood and marriage, in the lower end of the county. He and Judge Saufley are the only announced candidates so far, and the fight promises to be a warm one.

A Heavy Loss.

Capt. White, of this office, met with a big loss yesterday when his fine cow became very ill and had to be killed. The Captain and his noble wife are deeply grieved over the matter, as the cow was an unusually good one, furnishing them all the milk and butter they could use, and enough to supply several engagements in town.

What Politics Will Do.

This is what Urey Woodson has to say of politics, in the Owensboro Messenger, and most men who have dabbled therein will heartily endorse the sentiment: "It is a nasty game. It is heartless and selfish. It begets liars, hypocrites, ingrates and scoundrels. It utterly destroys the confidence of men in men. It is worse than an empty bauble. If it were only that, it would not be so bad. It destroys the capacity of men to make of themselves useful and successful citizens in other pursuits."

Main Catalogue July 15.

The main catalogue of the Lexington Elks Fair, Horse Show and Carnival, Aug. 11 to 16, inclusive, will be out July 15. The work of getting out this catalogue annually is a stupendous undertaking. It has been decided to issue 25,000 copies this year, of which number 16,000 will be distributed through the mails, going to all parts of the country, and the catalogue will be read by more than one hundred thousand persons. It will likewise be one of the handsomest of its kind ever issued in Kentucky and will contain nearly 100 pages.

The Reason Why.

The Winchester Democrat says the general public often wonders why a newspaper does not write this man up, or pitch into this or that thing, and seem to think that we editors should be losing our tempers at all times. In glancing over our exchanges we find the following, which is worth perusing: "A man told us the other day that he did not publish all the things that happened. We should say we don't. In the first place we have others who depend on us for a living. If we published all that happened we would soon be with the angels. In order to please the people we must print only nice things about them and leave the rest to the gossip. Yes, its a fact we don't print all the news. If we did, wouldn't it make spicy reading? But this would be for one week only. The next week you would read our obituary and there would be another angel in heaven."

Everybody Going.

Everybody is getting ready for the fair at Crab Orchard next week, and indications are that the largest crowd ever in the historic little city will be present each day. The Springs hotel, together with other hotels and boarding houses will be ample to accommodate all who go. The grounds are the prettiest in Kentucky, the new grand stand being so situated that a view of the entire track will be had, the track being kite shaped and as level as a billiard table. Crab Orchard is always pleasant, no matter how hot the sun shines elsewhere, there being an abundance of shade and the best water in the world. The directors have hung up liberal money in each ring, and the show of stock will equal that of any fair in this section. The races each day will prove a big drawing card, as some fine runners, trotters and pacers have been entered for the show. There will be a mule race every day. Merry-go-rounds and other amusements will be on hand. Don't forget the dates, July 23, 24, 25.

About the Southern.

As the question of the extension of the Southern Railway through this section of the state is again being discussed, we will again bother some of the wise (?) chair warmers about town with a few statements about the railroad. The whine of such cattle had succeeded in making the impression that the road was never to be built, and our citizens had about quit discussing the question. THE RECORD has said all the time that the road would be built, and Garrard county can get it if she will only go after it in a way that will convince the railroad people that we want it. Danville has come to the same conclusion, and believing that it will not be long before the matter is taken up, tried to steal the march on Garrard by offering great inducements to have the line built from Burgin to Danville now. As a matter of course, if they get it built to Danville now, when the company is ready to build on to Jellico they will commence at Danville. A blind man can see what Danville is after. The building of the road to that city would leave Harrodsburg out in the cold, cold world, and some of our people went there last week and explained the matter to the Harrodsburg people. They did not go to Danville to "confer with railroad officials," as was reported to other newspapers. THE RECORD has a letter from Mr. Spencer, the president, saying that the matter of building to Jellico will not be taken up yet awhile, but we will be given due and timely notice when the company is ready. In the mean time, we think Danville's little plan of building on from above Harrodsburg to Danville does not amount to a hill of beans, but such a move means so much to Garrard that a weather eye should be kept on our hustling friends.

Killed in Oregon.

A telegram was received yesterday by Mrs. Margaret Stevens, announcing the untimely death of John Daniel Fain. He was shot at Champog, Oregon, by J. F. Marley, who was his former associate in business, the trouble arising from Fain's refusing to make a deed to some land. He was a nephew of the late Daniel Posey, of this county. He was born in Jessamine county and has many friends and relatives in both counties, who will be grieved to learn of the sad tragedy.

We haven't space to give full particulars.

"Meet Me on the Forum."

There will be no time-worn midway at the Lexington Elks Fair, August 11 to 16, this year, but in its place the handsome Roman forum of the De-Kreko Roman Carnival and Exposition Company, Olympian games charity races, splendid feats of strength, trapeze performances, work of funny clowns, and other grotesque fun workers all dished out in high-class European amusement style, will supercede the midway shows, and a performance will be given on a scale never before seen in this part of the country. The De Krekos will appear at the St. Louis Exposition in 1904, with the same show and are only playing a few large cities temporarily now because the big exposition was postponed a year. There will also be daily automobile and motor-cycle races at the Lexington Fair.

Interesting to 2d Kentucky.

A Washington special says: The Spanish War claims of the State of Kentucky presented to the department by Capt. C. C. Calhoun, of Lexington, will be certified by the Auditor within a few days. They will amount to about $30,000, which is in excess of the amount expected by the State officials. These claims involve pay due soldiers of the four volunteer regiments. Capt. Calhoun said today that he will appeal from the decision of the Auditor to the Controller of the Treasury as soon as certification is made. The Auditor, he said, settled the claims upon a basis which will not allow the regiments as much as they are entitled to. For example the rations and pay of the First and Second regiments from the time they reported for duty to the date of enrollment have been disallowed. Capt. Calhoun believes the Controller will pass upon the case and dispose of the appeal within a month, and in the event of favorable action the soldiers will receive about $50,000. No congressional action is necessary for the payment of this claim.

Denny.

After a lingering and painful illness, Mrs. A. R. Denny died in this city Monday night. As has been known to her friends, she has been in bad health for some time, and recently confined to the house most of the time. When her health began to fail, Mr. Denny moved to town, from his home near Hiattsville, thinking the change would be beneficial, but this proved of no advantage. Mrs. Denny was a Miss Lackey, and widely related in Garrard and Madison counties. She was a member of the Presbyterian church, and as long as she was able to attend never missed any of the services. She was kind-hearted and ever ready to assist those about her. She bore her afflictions with that Christian fortitude characteristic of those who put their entire trust in Him.

She leaves her husband, Mr. Alex. R. Denny, president of the National Bank, one son, Mr. S. C. Denny, cashier of the same institution, and one daughter, Mrs. Mattie Duncan, who have the deepest sympathy of the entire community in their great loss. Funeral services were conducted at the Lancaster Cemetery yesterday morning at ten o'clock, Rev. Mr. Chumbley, officiating.

A Noble Act.

As many of our readers are aware, Miss Christine Bradley, of this city, whose name had been entered in the Queen of Carnival contest at the Richmond Elks fair, requested her enthusiastic friends to withdraw her name, Saturday afternoon, and her request was complied with. The statement made by her is published elsewhere in this issue. Those working for her had secured enough votes to elect her beyond all question, but she learned of the large sums being contributed, and said she would not permit them to go to such extravagance, as it was not at all right for them to do so. Very few girls would have stopped to consider the matter from this point of view, as the honor was a great one and she being the only candidate outside of the wealthy town of Richmond her selection would have been a doubly great honor. We have never known a more noble hearted young lady, one possessed with a brighter mind or sweeter disposition. Although petted and humored by a vast throng of admiring friends, she is entirely free from vanity, and bears the many honors bestowed upon her with a grace that has made her friends all over the state. The young men working for her selection were somewhat disappointed in her withdrawing, feeling confident they had the race won, but Miss Bradley's request was promptly complied with. Only six hundred votes had been cast for her, enough to show that she was in the fight, but enough were ready to be cast to take the wind out of the Madison boys' sails and elect Miss Bradley by a handsome majority.

The Farris Law.

Harrison Shelby, colored, was arraigned in the Boyle court last week, being charged with procuring liquor for another. Berry Johnson was the party he secured it for. This is the first case under the Farris Law that has come up in this county, therefore it created a good deal of interest. Shelby was fined $50 and ten days in jail, from which he has taken an appeal to the Boyle Circuit Court, where the validity of the law will be tested.

The section under which the conviction was made, reads: "Section 2. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, lend, give, procure for, or furnish to another, any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, or to have in his possession spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, for the purpose of selling them in any territory where said act is in force, and any person so offending shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars, and imprisoned not less than ten nor more than fifty days."

Interesting Statistics.

The bulletin issued by the Census Office Wednesday gives some interesting statistics of the agriculture of Kentucky. Of the 25,069,000 acres of land surface 21,979,422 acres are included in farms. These farms June 1, 1900, numbered 234,967, and were valued at $382,004,390. Of this amount $90,887,465 represents the value of buildings, and $291,117,430 the value of land and improvements other than buildings. On the same date the value of farm implements and machinery was $15,301,860, and of live stock $73,739,106. These values, added to that of farms give $471,045,856 as the total value of property. The gain in the last decade in the total value of land, improvements and buildings was $35,665,530; in that of improvements and machinery, $4,395,345; live stock, $2,814,706. The value of the farm products of 1899 was 86.9 per cent. greater than that reported for 1889.

They Were Prepared.

Speaking of the Queen of Carnival Contest, the Richmond Register says: "At noon excitement was at a fever heat. Richmond was expecting Miss Bradley's supporters to come in with a large vote, and said they were prepared to meet any emergency. * * * Shortly before close of the polls, a Garrard county man arrived and placed several fat envelopes in the box. This put new life into the contest, and the Richmond boys dug down in their pocket books and as the old saying is, 'they came and came clean.' When the vote was counted, it was found the Lancaster man's envelopes were only a good bluff, for which the lodge is indebted to him several hundred dollars."

Miss Bradley's Card.

"Lancaster, Ky., July 12.—To the Elks Lodge, Richmond, Ky: Some weeks ago at the solicitation of several partial young friends I consented to permit myself to be voted for in the contest for Queen of the Elks' Carnival, shortly to be held in your city. I understood that each Elk who was a friend of mine would be permitted to vote for me upon the payment of five cents, the fund arising therefrom to be given to the Elks Lodge at Richmond. I learned with very great surprise, and even greater regret, that my friends, both at home and throughout the State, have been notified of my alleged candidacy with a view of permitting them to join in contributing large sums of money to secure my election. The committee in charge of my alleged candidacy not only exhibited large checks and drafts, some given for as large amounts as $200, but they show letters from many friends directing the committee to draw on them for such additional amounts as may be found necessary.

They show me further, also, a signed agreement of other over-partial friends, in which they agree and obligate themselves to each other to contribute enough to elect me, regardless of the amount required. This state of affairs was so entirely unthought of on my part, and in fact, is so repulsive to me, that I cannot for for one moment think of permitting the use of such large sums of money for that purpose. To be elected Queen of the Carnival by the vote of one's friends, they voting for only the nominal sum of five cents, may be indeed a very great honor, but when the election is to be bought by large sums of money, as is here proposed, it is an honor which I do not at all desire, and which I do not believe my father, now in New York would approve of.

"I also learn today that this being a Madison county fair, with a number of her daughters being voted for, while I am the only non-resident entered. I am for that reason being made the subject of some criticism, all of which I very much regret, and do not wish to longer merit. So, thanking those friends who have so generously joined in the effort to elect me, and assuring them that I shall ever feel profoundly grateful to each of them, yet I have at the same time directed the said sale committee to return every dollar of the fund to the donors, with my thanks, and with a statement of my reasons for not permitting the sum to be used. Very respectfully, "CHRISTINE BRADLEY."

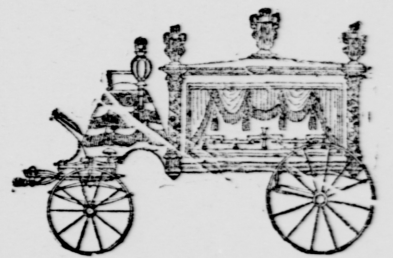

Don't forget the Crab Orchard Fair next week. 23, 24, 25.

LOWELL.

Blackberries are ripe and everybody is trying to get their share.

Mrs. Belle Henderson is visiting friends and relatives in Brodhead. Miss Sude Parks has returned home after a long visit in the mountains. Milford Lee is on the sick list this week.

There has been two mad dogs killed in this place this week—they did not do any damage except bite some dogs that had to be killed.

Our school began last week, Misses Sude Parks and Bessie Ballard being teachers.

There is being some kicking made here about the Sulphur pump. Children are permitted to play and dabble about the pump, and spill water around it, and it is getting filthy. Parents will please caution their children about that as it is supposed to cause diseases.

A Felony.

It is not generally known that the last Legislature made it a felony for any person, under certain conditions to enter upon the posted lands of another. The new law—chapter 22nd, acts, 1902, reads:

"It shall be unlawful for any person without the consent of the owner thereof to enter any orchard, game preserve, ginseng garden, or other premises when same is enclosed by a fence, board, plank, picket, stone or any other fence, not less than seven feet in height, after the owner thereof has conspicuously displayed on said premises on board not less than twelve by twenty-four inches in size the word 'posted,' and it shall be unlawful for any person to cut, tear down, burn or otherwise injure any such fence enclosing such orchard, game preserve, ginseng garden, or farm, or other premises; and any one found guilty of violating the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a felony and on conviction shall be confined in the State penitentiary not less than one nor more than three years."

Wealth of Kentucky Farmers.

A census bulletin, issued this week from the department at Washington, furnishes some interesting figures as to the number and value of Kentucky farms and the income derived from them by the owners.

According to the bulletin the farms in Kentucky numbered on June 1, 1900, 234,667, with the total valuation of $382,004,800. Of this amount $80,887,400, or 23.8 per cent, represents the value of buildings and $291,117,420, or 76.2 per cent, the value of land and improvements other than buildings. On the same date the value of farm implements and machinery was $15,301,860, and of live stock $73,739,106. These values added to that of farms give $471,015,856, the "total value of farm property."

The total value of farm products for 1899 was $123,206,785, of which amount $44,303,940, or 35.9 per cent, represents the value of animal products and $78,902,845, or 64.1 per cent, the value of crops, including forest products cut or produced on farms. The total value of farm products for 1899 exceeds that for 1898 by $57,318,300, or 86.9 per cent, but a part of this increase is doubtless due to a more detailed enumeration in 1900 than in 1890.

The "gross farm income" is obtained by deducting from the total value of farm products the value of the products fed to live stock on the farms of the producers. In 1899 the reported value of products fed was $21,128,530, leaving $102,138,255 as the gross farm income. The ratio which the latter amount bears to the "total value of farm property" is referred to in this bulletin as "the percentage of gross income upon investment." For Kentucky in 1899 it was 21.7 per cent.

While 21.7 per cent, dividend may not equal Rockefeller's there are very few commercial enterprises that equal this profit on investments. It might be a good idea for the farmer to cut this out and paste it in his hat, or at some convenient place where he can re-read it when he is tempted by some temporary loss or discouragement to sell his farm and engage in some town business.

No False Claims.

The proprietors of Foley's Honey and Tar do not advertise this as a "sure cure for consumption." They do not claim to it will cure this dread complaint in advanced cases, but do positively assert that it will cure in the earlier stages and never fails to give comfort and relief in the worst cases. Foley's Honey and Tar is without doubt the greatest throat and lung remedy. Refuse substitutes. C. C. and J. E. Stormes. 1m

An Energetic Young Man.

Mr. George D. Potts, a former Lancaster boy, has taken charge of the Staunton hotel at Chattanooga. For a number of years Mr. Potts has managed the Burnett house, in Cincinnati and it was mainly through his untiring efforts that it was made the leading hotel in Cincinnati. Seeing a better thing in the Chattanooga property, Mr. Potts decided to make the change. He is the son of Mr. E. D. Potts, and is well remembered by older citizens and the "boys" of a few years ago. He is an industrious, pushing fellow, and we trust will realize his fondest hopes.

When Mr. Lear went to untie his horse, it became frightened, ran away and completely demolished the buggy.

Repulsive Features.

Blackheads, pimples, greasy faces and muddy complexions, which are so common among women, especially girls at a certain age, destroying beauty, disfiguring and making repulsive, features which would otherwise appear attractive and refined, indicate that the liver is out of order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at R. E. McRoberts, Druggist in
